Don't Risk IT, SECURE IT®
Cybersecurity and Compliance Specialists

The Challenges of Do-It-Yourself Security

In addition to high Information Security payroll costs, other challenges of managing your security in-house include:

- Highly specialized training and expertise required.
- Shortage of information security professionals.
- Complex regulations on security, privacy and breach notification.
- Ongoing release of sophisticated new security tools, technologies and protocols.
- Evolution of new malware, zero-day threats and ransomware.
